At HUSSSH, we create evidence-driven cosmeceutical solutions that support scalp, hair, and skin wellness—focusing on real results for real people.

Our mission is to bridge the gap between cosmetic care and clinical-grade efficacy, offering products that restore confidence through visible, measurable outcomes.

Founded in 2020 as a dedicated division of IPG Pharma Ltd, we benefit from a pharmaceutical heritage that underpins our approach to product quality, regulatory compliance, and ingredient integrity. While IPG continues to serve as our parent company, HUSSSH operates with its own focused mandate: to develop and deliver high-performance solutions to common—but often under-addressed—dermatological concerns.

Our formulations are designed for both men and women and are developed with a commitment to inclusivity, transparency, and long-term health. From thinning hair and alopecia to dry, irritated skin and excess facial or body hair, our range targets the underlying causes with safe, non-invasive alternatives to harsh chemical treatments or prescriptions.

Each HUSSSH product is:

- Manufactured to pharmaceutical quality standards in audited facilities
- Fully compliant with the UK Cosmetic Products Enforcement Regulations 2013 and EU Regulation 1223/2009
- Where applicable, pharmaceutical products meet MHRA regulations and relevant EU Directives, with full authorisation numbers displayed on-pack
- Clearly labeled with complete, legible ingredient declarations
- Formulated for all genders, with product development guided by ongoing clinical feedback

We're actively expanding our distribution network in the UK and internationally. To learn more about our product range or to register as a trade partner, visit:

Understanding Hair Loss: Context and Impact

Hair loss (alopecia) occurs in various forms and can result from numerous medical and environmental factors, including:

- Androgenetic alopecia (AGA)
- Alopecia areata
- Telogen effluvium
- Systemic conditions such as thyroid disease
- Adverse drug effects
- Scalp or hair trauma
- Discoid lupus erythematosus
- Chemotherapy
- Lichen planus
- Structural hair shaft abnormalities
- Psychological or environmental stress¹

Hair serves not only as physical protection—providing cranial cushioning and shielding the scalp from sunlight—but also as an important sociocultural symbol of gender, age, identity, and status².

Hair loss affects individuals of all sexes and ages and is widely associated with negative emotional and psychological consequences. These include diminished self-esteem, emotional distress, embarrassment, and social withdrawal. Research shows these effects are especially pronounced in women³. One study found that 88% of individuals with alopecia reported a negative impact on daily life, with 75% experiencing reduced self-esteem and 50% encountering social difficulties⁴.

Further insights into the connection between hair health and self-perception are explored in the Argan Oil fact sheet later in this document.

Key Takeaway—HUSSSH Hair Therapy Shampoo offers a non-pharmaceutical, gender-inclusive approach to addressing hair thinning and loss. Backed by years of safe use and a clear regulatory pathway, it is a trusted solution for professionals seeking quality, efficacy, and transparency.
